DREAM JOURNAL

So, you're a Dreamweaver...

Welcome to an exclusive and magical community. You probably have a lot of questions, but here are some basics to start us off. Dreamweavers have their own special dream – like a home base. When you fall asleep with just your symbol on your hand you'll end up here first. You can enter other people's dreams by creating a portal. They have to be asleep or the portal will not appear. If someone wakes up while you're in their dream, you'll wake up too.

How to Dreamweave

Choose a symbol special to you. This will be the ticket into your own dream so keep it safe and only share it with those you trust! Draw the symbol on your hand before you go to sleep. When you finally fall asleep, you'll arrive in your own special dream. You can now control it! With practice, you can make things appear – a monkey riding a bike, a human-sized doughnut ... anything's possible!

DESIGN YOUR OWN DREAM BASE

In Dreamweavers: The Night of the Scary Fairies, Tito and Neena can control dreams and create amazing worlds. Each dream starts the same, use the box below to design your own dream base.

“ A cold breeze whips me in the face and I smell pine trees. I look around and immediately recognize the clifftop but it seems different this time. Everything is more vivid: the stars in the sky and the brightness of the colours that swirl around in it. The breeze blows again and I feel the hairs on my arms prick up. I scan the grass for any trace of the glowing figures that had taunted me before but thankfully there’s no sign of them. Phew. Just when I think I’m alone, I hear a voice, far away... Is it... Is it calling my name? “Tito!” I turn round and look towards the edge of the cliff, where the sound is coming from. A figure is running towards me. “Neena!?” I shout. “Tito!” she beams, as she gets closer. “I knew it! I’m so happy I can trust you. I thought I wouldn’t have anyone here to talk to. I thought I would have to stay away from everyone and keep everything secret but...” She stops in front of me, panting. “You’re a Dreamweaver!” ”

A large rectangular box with a decorative yellow border containing ten horizontal lines for writing.

DREAMWEAVERS RIDDLES AND RHYMES

Paris are playful tricksters and often speak in riddles or rhymes. Help Tito and Neena enchant the scary fairies by using one or more of the words below to make your very own rhyme or riddle.

Magic, dreams, fairy, spell, adventure, school, sweets, nightmares and friends.
